DIVORCE PROBE BY ATTORNEYS NEARS END

DECLINE TO TESTIFY

Expected Taking of Oral Testimony Will be Completed Tuesday—Committee Will Report to Bar Asso.

The committee engaged in the task of probing the alleged divorce evil in this city adjourned about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon to meet again Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, when Judge Robinson Moncure, of the Corporation Court, will take the stand. The examination of all witnesses practically had been completed when the committee adjourned yesterday afternoon, although it is probable that a few more may be called.

It is expected that the committee will, therefore, on Tuesday complete its labors of taking oral testimony. As soon as this is done it will meet in executive session and formulate its report, which will be submitted to the Alexandria Bar Association.

The reason for postponing the hearing till Tuesday was that Attorney John S. Barbour, representing Judge Moncure, said he would be unable to be here today, and Attorney Wilson Farr of Fairfax, representing Attorneys Davis and Budwesky, also explained that he would be unable to attend the hearing Monday.

At the afternoon session yesterday Policemen Magner and Durrer were called to testify. Both declined to testify before the committee, and Judge Norton made a motion that the committee request the police commissioners to request them to testify. This motion was not carried, and Judge Norton stated that he would see the commisioners in an effort to have them testify.

Robert J. Thomas, a local attorney, told of the alleged political activities of Judge Moncure. Mr. Thomas said he had been a resident here less than a year. He told of Judge Moncure having discussed with him prior to the primary last August the merits of certain candidates for office and urged him to support Howard W. Smith for commonwealth's attorney and F. G. Duvall for civil and police justice.

Mr. Thomas stated that he knew nothing of the divorce situation here, other than what the records disclosed.

Attorney W. S Snow was next called. He told of a conversation he had with Judge Moncure on the day that Attorney Frank Stuart appeared and of the conversation that took place in the judge's office on that occasion. Mr. Snow, who at that time was police justice, said he declined to speak for the chief of police at the request of Judge Moncure. Mr. Snow declared that when he entered the race for commonwealth's attorney he was advised by Judge Moncure not to run.

A. Cloyd Gill, former city editor of the Washington Times, now representing that paper in this hearing, when called on by the committee to testify, declined, but stated that he would be willing at any time to go before the grand Jury.

Attorney J. Randall Caton was questioned at length by Attorney Stuart in regard to Mrs. Baggett testifying in divorce cases and of a statement made by Mr. Caton to the judge calling to his attention that they had stated they could obtain evidence of a residence here.

Attorneys Edmund Burke and H. Joel Barner were questioned regarding certain divorce cases in which they were acting for parties interested.

Richmond—Without a dissenting vote and with 87 Delegates voting for it, House bill No. 350, providing for the erection of a $750,000 fireproof State office building on the southeastern section of the Capitol grounds, or upon such site as may be selected by the board without additional cost to the State, passed the House of Delegates Thursday night.

Income Tax Returns

Last Day For Payment to Uncle Sam Is March 15

With but nine more days intervening before income tax for the government must be filed, Alexandrians are at present now busily engaged in the task of filing their returns and the local officials with offices in the postoffice building are kept busy receiving returns and also assisting persons in making out their returns.

Indications are that the returns from Alexandria this year will not be as heavy as last year. The slump is due to the fact that the earnings of many of this year are not as great as they were last year. The local officers in the revenue office request that persons who can file their returns without delay. It is expected that a majority of persons who expect to make returns will not do so before the coming week.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, March 4.—Senator France, Republican, of Maryland, in the speech he made against the ratification o fthe Four-Power pact, practically rid himself out of his party. Among other things, the Maryland Senator had this to say:

"If you Democrats had realized or if you had believed that the League of Nations was an alliance you would not have been for that. If you Democrats stand clearly and determinedly for the principle of 'no entangling alliances,' which my party is now repudiating, you will meet your reward at the hands of the American people. And I hope to God you do. This party which calls itself a Republican party, when it repudiated George Washington, ceased to be a Republican party. I would rather go back home than be elected by repudiation of the policies of Washington."

James M. Cox, the Democratic presidential nominee in 1920, has set the ball rolling for the drive the Democrats will make at the November elections in order to capture control of both branches of Congress. He stopped over in Washington on his way South, and during his visit here held a series of conferences with Democratic leaders, during which they prepared a general program for their campaign to wrest the House and the Senate from Republican control. It had been arranged that the Ohioan and former President Wilson should meet, but Admiral Grayson, Mr. Wilson's physician, asked that the conference be cancelled because his distinguished patient was suffering with cold. Governor Cox did see Cordell Hull, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, former Representative C. C. Carlin, Joseph P. Tumulty, Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, Senator Atlee Pomerene, of Ohio, and half a dozen others.

"If the Congressional elections were to be held tomorrow," Governor Cox declared while in Washington, "there is no doubt in my mind how thy would go. They would go decidedly Democratic."

Governor Cox is preparing to take an active part in the campaign, particularly in Ohio, which he hopes to bring back to the Democratic column. He will also take the stump in Massachusetts against Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, whom he blames for the defeat of the League of Nations, and whom he referred to in the 1920 campaign as the "arch conspirator of the ages."

HARDING STILL INSISTS ON A TAX FOR BONUS

NO VETO EXPECTED

Leaders Believe Their Action is Political and Least Burdensome of Any So Far.

Washington, March 4.—The Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee yesterday unanimously accepted the bonus plan agreed upon yesterday by the subcommittee in charge of the question. This assures favorable report of the plan to the House, and probably assures its passage in that body.

About the same hour the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee reached this decision, it was stated at the White House that President Harding was still standing on his recent letter to Chairman Fordney urging the sales tax as a revenue source to meet the cost of the bonus.

On the face of things, there is another conflict between the President and the leaders of his party in Congress over the bonus. However, if the leaders in the House go through with their plans, and if the Senate follows, there will be surprise should Mr. Harding interpose strong objections or exercise his veto when the bill reaches him.

He is committed to the bonus and there is very general belief among Republican leaders that good politics dictates the passage of a bonus bill before the Congressional elections in the fall if any possible means of meeting the costs can be found that will not cause a tremendous flareback. The Republicans in the House believe that they have found the way to do that, although under analysis their plan is not far removed from a bond or short-term certificate issue, to which Mr. Harding has been opposed.

By cutting out cash payments except to soldiers not entitled to more than $50 each in bonus the new plan reduces the actual immediate outlay from the Treasury to about $16,000,000 thus several million needed for the overhead of the provisions for vocational training, home and farm aid, and land settlement. That outlay will mean no considerable direct burden upon the Treasury and no additional direct tax, and thus, the House leaders hold, will meet Mr. Harding's views.

The men, other than those who are to get less than $50, who want money at once, will get it by borrowing from the banks up to 50 per cent. of the compensation value of the certificates of insurance provided in the bonus bill. That is, any soldier taking a certificate of insurance may go to any national bank or to any State bank or trust company and get one-half of the compensation value of his insurance certificate, paying interest of not more than 2 per cent. higher than charged by the Federal Reserve Bank for 90- day loans.

HOUSE FAVORS CUT IN FUEL FUND OF NAVY

$108,500,000 Voted to Meet Deficiencies of Various Departments

ELIMINATE HELIUM

Chairman Madden Asks Action be Delayed Until Committee Can Complete its Investigation.

Washington, March 4.—Without a record vote the House yesterday passed and sent to the Senate a bill appropriating approximately $108,500,000 to meet deficiencies of various Government departments. The largest item carried in the measure is $94,000,000 for the Veterans' Bureau.

A provision which would limit to $6,300,000 the amount the Navy Department would spend for fuel during the next four months remained in the bill without provoking discussion.

One of the few amendments adopted increased the total for the enforcement of the maternity act during the remainder of the current fiscal year from $370,000 to $490,000. The bill also carries $5,000,000 for the initial payment to the republic of Colombia under the treaty recently ratified as a settlement of the Panama Canal controversy.

With less than 100 members on the floor, an amendment which would have made $150,000 available for development of helium with a view to using it to fill dirigibles was rejected by a 2-to-1 vote. The amendment was offered by Representative Lanham, Democrat, Texas, who plead with the House to be more liberal in providing funds for experiments in the uses of the gas, which is noninflammable, and for conservation and development of the supply. The recent Roma disaster never would have occurred, Mr. Lanham declared, if the airship had been filled with helium instead of hydrogen gas.

The helium plant at Fort Worth, in experiments with the gas and in world capable of producing the gas in large quantities, has been closed since last November 30, Mr. Lanham said, because funds have not been available to continue operations.

Chairman Madden, of the Appropriations Committee, opposed the amendment on the ground that the subcommittee drafting the army appropriation should be made for helium development. Congress, Mr Madden held, should not authorize further expenditures until the subcommittee had made its report. No request has come from any Government department for additional funds to produce helium during the remainder of this fiscal year, he added.

During the discussion Chairman Anthony, of the subcommittee, which is studying the helium situation, asserted that Congress had been "fairly liberal" in providing funds for helium production; that more than $10,000,000 had been expended by the Government since the beginning of the war in experiments wit hthe gas and in developing the plant at Fort Worth.

Case Set For Monday

The case of Mrs. Mary L. Baggett, charged by Thomas J. Wright of Riverdale, Md., with making an alleged false affidavit in a divorce suit here in which his wife obtained a divorce, is slated to be heard at 10 o'clock Monday morning in the Police Court. When the case was called a few days ago Wright failed to appear, and Justice Duvall announced that unless he appeared Monday or gave a reasonable excuse for his absence the case would be dismissed.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN

Three bureaus of the Chamber of Commerce held meetings yesterday afternoon in the rooms of that organization and elected one director from each to the Chamber of Commerce. The directors chosen from the various bureaus follow: Harry Hammond, Manufacturers and jobbers; J. William May, publicity and convention; O. H. Kirk, traffic and transportation.

SENATE PASSES EDUCATION BILL

Proposed Law Requires Attendance at School for Six Years

Amendments Made by House Are Voted Down—Children 8 to 14 Must Attend

After elimination of House amendments declared to mean virtual nullification of the measure, the Senate yesterday passed the substitute compulsory education bill by a vote of 25 to 11, with four other members paired. An effort to put the question to a State-wide referendum was also turned down.

While the objectionable House amendments were rejected, opponents of the bill succeeded in killing a number of its features, including that putting the attendance enforcement in the hands of criminal authorities and also secured a change whereby the penalties are reduced from a maximum of $100 to $25 and jail sentences eliminated. They also excluded private, denominational and parochial schools from being compelled to make numerous reports and to require their teachers to hold certificates from the State Board of Education.

As passed, the bill provides for the compulsory attendance of all children of school age between the ages of 8 and 14 years. Credit is given for attendance at private, denominational or parochial schools or for instruction by tutors at home, providing the instruction is given five days a week during the public school term. Where an attendance officer is not provided by the locality, the duties will devolve on the division superintendent of instructions.

The Deans amendment, permitting counties or cities to except their localities from the operations of the law, was defeated, 24 to 12. The Keezell amendment, permitting localities to fix the compulsory education period each year, also went down in defeat, 24 to 15. This was followed by the killing of the Epes referendum proposal by a vote of 21 to 15.

Senator C. O'Connor Goolrick handled the bill on the floor, and its chief opponent was Senator Louis S. Epes. Senator Walter Tansil Oliver also made a vigorous attack on the bill, the two opponents offering a total of more than forty amendments.

Lectures on St. Paul's Epistles

Ministers and Congregations of all Churches Invited to Hear Dr. Rollins at Christ Church

Dr. Rollins will deliver, on successive Tuesday nights at Christ Church, a series of lectures on "St. Paul's Epistles in the Light of Modern Knowledge."

The first lecture will be given on Tuesday, March 7, at 8 p. m., and will be an introduction to St. Paul's letters in general.

1. The first part of the lecture will Among the topics considered will be: Amon gthe topics considered will be: The nature of the epistles, and how they came to be written; and why and when they were put into the New Testament; a comparison between them and the other New Testament books; how they differ from the Scriptures of other religions.

2. In the second part of the lecture Dr. Rollins will show the great importance and value of studying St. Paul's epistles at the present time.

They are the earliest New Testament writings—earlier than our four Gospels; they bear the signature and authentification of an historical personage; their genuineness is practically unquestioned and their dates can be determined within very narrow limits; they reveal, in a very intimate way ,the mind and character of the greatest man in history; they shed a great light on an otherwise obscure period in history; they help greatly in our knowledge of the person and work of Jesus Christ; they help us to understand many great movements in history, as for example, the reformation; and most important of all, they have been, throughout history, nourishers of the moral and spiritual life; and they can be a great help to us at the present time.

A very cordial invitation is extended to the people of Alexandria to come to these lectures and to take part, for the next 5 weeks in a definite course of Bible study to be outlined by Dr. Rollins in this first lecture.

These lectures should prove highly interesting and instructive to all persons interested in Bible study, and they have been scheduled for Tuesdays in order that the members of other churches having Wednesday night services might attend these lectures without missing their own prayer meetings.

The rector and congregation of Christ Church wish to extend a very cordial invitation to the ministers and members of all the other Alexandria churches to attend these lectures. The lectures will be given each Tuesday night in Lent, beginning March 7, and will be preceeded each night, 7:40 to 8 o'clock, by a short organ recital by Mr. James Chesnutt Stockton, the new organist of Christ Church. Come and bring a friend with you.

PRESIDENT IS AGAINST ARMY AND NAVY CUT

Opposed to Crippling U. S. Armed Forces at This Time

NO "ECONOMY RAIDS"

Insists on Minimum of 130,000 For Army and 80,000 For Navy Being Observed

Washington, March 4.—President Harding is opposed now and will continue to oppose any extreme slashing of army or navy appropriations.

He feels that it would be a grave blunder to allow the spasm of economy which has seized certain interests in Congress to cripple the army or paralyze the navy.

This was made known by Mr. Harding himself yesterday afternoon following a conference at the White House with the subcommittee of the House dealing with military appropriations. Earlier he had gone over the same general matter with members of the Naval Affairs Committee of the House and Wednesday night he strongly urged Chairman Madden, of the House Appropriations Committee to see the business from the Administration's standpoint.

Concretely put, the President believes it would be a serious mistake to reduce the enlisted personnel of the army below 130,000 men. The House is now proposing to cut the number to 117,000.

The President believes the enlisted personnel of the navy should be not less than 80,000 and would prefer to see it nearer 100,000 men. The House is insisting that 75,000 men will be enough to man the fleet and shore stations.

The President let it be known that he does not stand in the way of a moderate decrease in appropriations for the two services. In fact, he believes that some reductions can be made without seriously impairing the efficiency of either.

But he is firmly opposed to a general slashing of the budget for the military and naval establishments and will fight any ill-considered and unjustifiable cuts until there is a greater degree of peace and stability at home and abroad.

Before making his position upon these issues public the President went over at some length the military problem with the subcommittee. The members of this committee were summoned to the White House following a semi-official announcement yesterday that the army would be cut to 115,000 or to 117,000 men at the outside.

The summons for the committee followed the visit of General Pershing to the White House, where he made a personal appeal to Harding to save the army.

The committeemen told the President the same thing yesterday, but they passed the responsibility on the membership of the House as a whole, insisting that it would be next to impossible, as matters now stand, to drive through the House an Army appropriation bill providing for an army of more than 117,000 men.

The President, it is understood, served notice on the committee that he could not stand for any such action and that he would be satisfied with an army after July 1 not less than 130,000 men, which is 20,000 men less than the present authorized strength of the land forces.

Superintendents Meet

IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY

HOUSE

Met at noon and adjourned at 4:12 p. m. until noon today.

Without a record vote passed the second deficiency appropriation bill carrying approximately $108,500,000, the largest item being $94,000,000 for the veterans' bureau.

By a vote of 47 to 20 rejected an amendment which would have made $150,000 available for production of helium, a non-inflammable gas for dirigibles.

Representative Williams (Republican), Illinois, made a vigorous attack on Postmaster General Hays, declaring that the retiring cabinet officer "has been the one disappointment of the first year of the Republican administration."

Representative Blanton (Democrat), Texas, charged Mr. Williams with "ingratitude" and credited Mr. Hays with bringing about the Republican landslide of 1920.

Representative Fairchild (Republican), Indiana, speaking briefly, said Mr. Hays needs no defense and that the attack in a way did him honor, because it revealed that Mr. Hays was unwilling to recognize accusations against men "simply and solely because they were Democrats and remove them from office before their terms expired."

Investigation of the conduct of Governor E. Mont Reily of Porto Rico by the committee on insular affairs is proposed by a resolution introduced by Mr. Humphreys (Democrat), Mississippi.

The agriculture committee reported favorably an appropriation of $2,000,000 for purchase of seed grain for farmers in the crop-failure area of the Northwest, the Senate having provided for $5,000,000.

The subcommittee of the ways and means committee completed working out of details of the compromise soldier bonus bill, and the redrafted measure will be presented to the full committee Tuesday.

The committee investigating various offers for the Muscle Shoals project returned yesterday to the offer made by Frederick Engstrum, of Wilmington, N. C.

SENATE

Met at 11 o'clock and recessed at 6:30 p. m. until 11 o'clock this morning.

Discussion of the promotion of Maj. Robert G. Peck came up in open session, Senator Reed (Democrat), Missouri, attacking that officer and glorifying the record of the Thirty-fifth division in the world war, which Maj. Peck is charged with having unjustly criticized Senator Reed's motion to consider the case in open executive session was declared out of order.

PREMIER MUST NOT RESIGN SAYS CABINET

DECISION POSTPONED

Head of Revolt Against Premier's Rule Has Not Been Removed However.

Oxford, England, March 4.—Austen Chamberlain, Government leader in the House of Commons, in an address here yesterday evening, announced that, after consulting his colleagues in the Cabinet, he had given Prime Minister Lloyd George a unanimous reply that they considered it necessary in the national interest that the premier should continue to carry on the government.

Mr. Chamberlain said that when Premier Asquith resigned during the war Mr. Lloyd George had not sought the premiership, but desired to serve under Arthur J. Balfour or Andrew Bonar Law. Both these men thought it in the national interest that Mr. Lloyd George should have the premiership, and he accepted the post at their request, Mr. Chamberlain said.

Mr. Lloyd George then said that if at any time he felt that the country's interests would be better served by the return to party government he gladly would retire in favor of either Mr. Balfour or Mr. Bonar Law, the speaker added.

"Mr. Lloyd-George repeated that offer to me the other day," Mr. Chamberlain continued. "And he would not take my answer, but asked me formally to confer with my party and let him have their reply. I have consulted them, and we have unanimously replied that we have the national interest, and we have the interest of our own party, and that we must take the broad and long view, and that would not be served, but would be injured, by the prime minister resigning.

"We havetold him that we value his leadership in the Government and the Cabinet; that we value the co-operation of his Liberal colleagues, and that we think no government constituted as a purely party government could have brought the country through the danger of war as his combination has done."

Mr. Chamberlain highly eulogized the achievements of Mr. Lloyd George at home and abroad. He argued that British counsels carried the greatest weight in Europe, and declared that the premier's colleagues felt that to accept his offer would be to betray that stability which it was the privilege and duty of the Conservative party to preserve.

Mr. Chamberlain referred to the Irish settlement as having been "a shock to some of our oldest friends," but declared he had nothing but high regard "for the men who differ from us."

DECLINES TO PROSECUTE CASE AGAINST WIFE

W. H. Bailey Asks Charge Be Nolle Prossed

COURT DISMISSED CASE

Motion of Attorney For Mrs. S. Bailey That Warrant Was Illegal is Overruled by Court.

William Henry Bailey of Washington today appeared in the Police Court before Justice F. G. Duvall and asked that the case against his wife, Mrs. Irene Rose Bailey, whom he charged in a warrant with an allaged false statement regarding her residence here be nolle prossed.

The warrant was obtained in connection with a divorce suit irstituted here by Mrs. Bailey in Alexandria. Attorney R. W. Stump, who represents Mrs. Bailey, told the court he wanted a dismissal of the case on the ground that Mrs. Bailey was illegally held.

Attorney Frank Stuart, who represented Bailey, declared that if Mrs. Bailey was being illegally detained her attorney had a remedy in habeas corpus proceedings.

Justice F. G Duvall overruled a motion of Attorney Stump, made in this connection, and dismissed the case.

Mrs. Bailey appeared in court accompanied by her parents.

Mrs. Bailey was brought here from Washington some time ago and immediately upon arriving in Alexandria she furnished a bail bond in the sum of $500, which was given by her father.

INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS

The reports issued from time to time, by the large industrial concerns of the country, are quite instructive as to many sociological problems. For instance, in a report just received, from the American Smelting and Refining Company, we find much valuable data in regard to the relations between employer and employe. The policies adopted by the company are evidently in the right direction. For instance, there were 4,866 strikes and lockouts reported to the United States Department of Labor, during the years 1916 to 1921, as occurring in twelve states in which the company had nineteen smelting and refining operations. They had neither strike nor lockout in a single instance. They had four plants in Colorado, one in Maryland, one in Montana, one in Texas, one in Illinois, two in Utah, one in New Jersey, and eight in Arizona, Oklahoma, Nebraska, California and Washington. In no case did any question arise between employer and employee that was not settled fairly to the satisfaction of both parties, by mutual conference.

The company attributes this amicable relationship to its having "adopted the rule of reasoning and friendly counsel." A statement truly eloquent in its brevity, and doubtless going to the very root of all industrial relations.

Its remarkable report as to the number of disabling accidents from year to year may also enter into its successful career as an integral element. In 1913, there were 264 accidents per thousand employes, per annum. In 1914, 233; in 1915, 215; in 1916, 197; in 1917, 149; in 1918, 107; in 1919, 88; in 1920, 80; and in 1921, only 63. That is, in nine years, the Company reduced its number of disabling accidents by three-fourths. This remarkable diminution in an employment that might be termed extra-hazardous, is due, it is claimed, to the education of its employes along safety lines. In other words, accidents may be greatly diminished by proper attempts in teaching care and caution on the part of the laborer and mechanic. A Department of Safety, Labor and Welfare looks after this branch of instruction, and consists of foremen's committees, workmen's committees, and general safety committees, under a general safety inspector, and in co-operation with the management. Intensive campaigns for accident prevention are conducted, danger spots in mechanical equipment are made almost, if not entirely, fool-proof, and prizes given to individuals and departments for best safety records. The moving-picture was employed as one of the means of educating employes in safe practices.

Altogether the facts are most encouraging, and what is still more so, is that all the larger industrial concerns in the country are at work on the same problems, and this means, in our opinion, their safe, sane, and satisfactory solution at no distant date.

Editor Brisbane Writes Dr. Martin About Bonus

Rev. Dr. D. H. Martin recently addressed a letter to Arthur Brisbane, editor of the New York Journal and other Hearst dailies, stating that he was heartily in sympathy with the idea of a government bonus if it were given to those boys who deserved it. Dr. Martin's idea was to let the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars decide the question as to the merits of those entitled to its distribution. He also suggested that the profiteers of the war in this country pay the bonus taxes. Mr. Brisbane's reply follows:

February 27, 1922.

My Dear Mr. Martin:

I thank you for your letter. I agree with you. The difficulty is to identify the "profiteers" of whom you speak, and to make them pay the tax after you identify them. The profiteers belong to the cunning class that know first how to make money, and second, how to avoid paying taxes.

Yours sincerely,
A. BRISBANE.

Human Love and Animal Worship

The love of a dog for his master is more akin to what we humans call worship. Some dogs nearly approach men in their intelligence. But the mere fact that the lowest human intelligence is infinitely higher than the highest animal intelligence renders the relationship pathetic beyond words. There is a play coming to the Richmond next Monday and Tuesday, 6th and 7th instants, that is more than usually fascinating because its hero is a dog—a Belgian police-dog, said to be th half-dog and half-wolf. Possessing the wild ferocity and native cunning of the latter, with the noblest instincts and traits of the former. This dog, named Strongheart, plays his part almost to perfection. He seems to enjoy his work, too, and apparently enters into it with a zest and good will that could be followed by his human comrades on the mimic stage to good advantage. His idolized mistress in the play, Kathryn McGuire, is a charming actress and we don't blame Strongheart for his devotion. He saves her life in one of the most thrilling moments of the screen drama so far portrayed. John Bowers, the hero, looks and acts every inch a hero of the wilds and the wastes of the great northwest. The plot is exciting and the intense interest never wavers for a moment.

Richmond—With 60 exhibitors already signed up in the annual Food Show, which will be given this year during the entire week of March 20, under the auspices of the Richmond Grocers, Inc., an organization with more than 300 members in Richmond, the opening run of the campaign of preparation for the event will be fired today when J. A. Amesbury, business manager of the organization, will be in a search for a couple to be married at the show.

An Olive Branch "Ledger"

"KEEPING count" of things has been done in myriad sorts of ways since the days when all records were chipped in stone. Today's intricate bookkeeping systems are only combinations of methods of the past, developed to the point of greatest efficiency.

There is one place on earth where a record-keeping method of the past refuses to be supplanted by modern system. This is among green olive pickers, near Seville, Spain, the only section in the world where green olives of proper size, texture and flavor for marketing can be grown.

Green olives are bought from the growers by the curers. As a rule, neither grower's nor curer's representative can read or write. So they make use of a curious recording system that has been handed down from one generation to another.

A piece of olive branch, from six to eighteen inches long, is the "ledger" on which record is kept. When the pickers deliver ten bushels of olives to the curer's representative, the latter notches a Roman "X" on the olive branch "ledger," which is presented by the representative of the grower. If, later in the day seven additional bushels are brought in, he cuts a diagonal line for five bushels and two upright lines for the remainder.

At the end of a day's work, or sometimes at the end of several days, the stick is split lengthwise, care being taken that the upper half of an "X" shows on one section of the split stick and the lower half on the other. Curer and grower each retain a half section.

Each keeps a piece to keep the peace; for, when the time for cash settlement arrives, any dispute as to the amount of olives picked on a certain day is immediately settled by comparing the two sections of their primitive ledger.

The notches on each half must correspond. Olive growers occasionally yield to the human failing of trying to get more than belongs to them. They cut an extra notch or two in their half of the stick in the hope that the buyer will not bother to question their record. However, the buyers are alert, and generally such attempts to pad an account are detected merely by joining the two halves and comparing marks. Any notch that does not register on both halves must have been cut on one after the stick was divided.

The method is ancient, but infallibly efficient for those responsible for the millions of gallons of Spanish green olives shipped to America each year to satisfy a growing demand. In Seville the olive branch is not only symbolic of peace and victory, but of system as well.

THE MARINES PREFER THEM SINGLE

Washington, Feb. 25.—Old Man Mars may be groggy from the stiff body blows that have been rained on him from all quarters since Armistice Day of 1918, but he won hands down in St. Valentine's Week over the forces of Cupid in a decision of the Marine Corps. In the future no married man will get by the recruiters who wear the blues of the Marines, nor will any be re-enlisted from any branch of the service except in specific cases of men on duty at certain staff offices, those detailed on recruiting duty and the benedicts who have had long and honorable service with the sea soldeirs.

The order of Major General John A. Lejeune was not issued as reflection on the fighting merits of the men who have been seriously wounded by Cupid's arrows. Vaudevillians who declare that the married man is a better warrior because he is always fighting will find no support in the order. It was based on economic reasons; the pay of a private and the lack of quarters at most stations for the families of enlisted men being the controlling reasons.

Glee Club Concert

Westminster Building Friday March Tenth

Tickets are now on sale for the Glee Club Concert to be held in the Westminster Building, Friday evening, March 10th, and are being disposed of rapidly, to the great satisfaction of the ladies in charge. All of the sixty-five members of this Club will be on hand for the occasion, and under the excellent leadership of thir director, a splendid program is anticipated. Two worthy causes are to be benefited by this performance, the Organ Fund of the First Congregational Church of Washington, D. C., the members of which church compose the Glee Club, and the Missionary fund of the Second Presbyterian Church, of this city. The affair is being given under the auspices of Mrs. Stephen H. Field's Circle of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Second Presbyterian Church, and it is hoped that a large number of Alexandria folks will take advantage of the opportunity to hear this excellent talent. Tickets may also be procured at the Westminster Building on the evening of the concert.

The Columbian Players

Thespians Score Success During The Past Week

The Columbian Players have during the past week scored several of the greatest successes yet achieved by the local amateur dramatic and musical organizations. During the past week the well known footlight enthusiasts of our city have journeyed to Washington on three different occasions, playing before audiences that totalled for the three evenings nearly 2,000 people. The Columbian Players last Friday evening played before a capacity playhouse in Anacostia, and on Monday and Tuesday evenings of this week they were the headliners at Holy Comforter Hall, a new two hundred thousand dollar hall in Washington. The following members of the Columbian Players took part in the vaudeville programs that were arranged for the occasions by the director, Norris N. Roland, Miss Ruby Davis, Miss Mary Conlon, Miss Margaret Griffith, Miss Magdalene Conlon, Messrs. Carl Rothmund, Norris P. Roland, George J. Jaeger, Anthony Conlon, and Marcus Jaeger.

The committee in charge of the undertakings that the Columbian Players assisted in Washington were especially pleased with the high class calibre of "Columbian Entertainment," and to show their appreciation of what the Alexandria folks did for them promise to come in large numbers to witness the new Columbian Musical Revue of 1922 when it is produced at the Lyceum Hall shortly after Easter. The Columban Players plan to produce after Easter one of the cleverest productions ever staged in this city.

Lynchburg—Fruit growers of the Central Piedmont section are enthused over the change in temperature this week and the snow and sleet storm, which will result in checking the rise of sap in fruit trees at last a week. If the weather will continue cool for ten days to two weeks longer the fruitmen will begin to feel that they are "out of the woods" as far as frost is concerned this year. Prominent fruitmen hold that weather conditions through the winter up to this time have been almost ideal for the prospective crop.

Richmond—Despite the inclement weather of Thursday, twenty-two members of the Virginia Legislature, who were former inhabitants of Spiderdom, motored to Westhampton, where they were guests of the University of Richmond at an informal dinner. The dinner was served in the Westhampton College dining room, and wives of the solons also were guests.

Win Championship

A. H. S. Wins in Thrilling Contest —Pettit Benched For Fowls

Alexandria High School won the Championship of the Second Athletic District of Virginia last night by defeating the Warrenton High School team by the score 27 to 14. The game was played in Manassas and was the third game between these two teams this season, each having won one.

At one time in the course of the game when only 6 minutes remained to be played things began to look dreary indeed for the Alexandria boys. Pettit was put out of the game because of personal fouls. There was no one to play center—so the opposing team thought. The score stood 13 to 12 in favor of Warrenton. Bob Midkiff then came to the rescue of his team and took the center position. Dyson was transferred from guard to forward to replace Midkiff and Wade was placed in Dyson's guard. The whistle blew and things began to hum. During the last six minutes of play the High School caged enough to net a total of 27 points, or 15 points. Pettit, Dyson, Rammage, Midkiff and Dreifus played well throughout the first half but seemed to be unable to pull away from their competitors. After Pettit was disqualified the High School organized to buck Warrenton's five man defence and according to the score it seems that they accomplished their purpose, as well as maintaining an air-tight defence at the time.

The game was a rough one from start to finish. Many supporters of both of the contesting teams were in Manassas. The High School team has not received word as to what other district champion it will be matched with in the semi-finals for the State Championship.

Grate the cocoanut and weigh it; add the sugar, mixing well. Beat the whites of the eggs very stiff, and add them to the grated cocoanut and sugar. Beat the mass hard for five minutes. Add the extract, then drip it in small spoonsful on buttered paper, and let dry in a slow oven for five minutes, or put through pastry bag and tube as above.

FLAN AUX FRAISES.

(French Strawberry Tart.)

Line a deep tin pie-plate with a rich pie paste, prick with a fork on the bottom, and put in enough beans, rice, whole corn kernels, etc., to keep the pastry in shape while baking. When well browned turn out this filling, and replace with the following: Mix four tablespoonfuls of flour with three-fourths a cup of sugar until thoroughly incorporated, and add to a pint of milk, heated to boiling point. Stir until the whole boils; add quickly one or two beaten eggs and two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, and pour at once into the flan-shell. Measure a pint of choice strawberries, hulled, and cook these eight minutes in a pint of sugar syrup, boiled to the soft-ball siege. Lift out carefully with a skimmer (the berries may be cooked a few at a time), and place over the cream filling of the flan. Boil down the remaining syrup to 245 degrees, or until it forms a firm ball, pour over the berries, and serve the flan when cold with whipped cream. Preserved berries may be substituted for fresh.

STEW OF WILD DUCKS.

Cut up the ducks as a chicken is cut for fricassee, and let boil for 10 menutes in water barely to cover, with one raw carrot and one onion, cut in slices. Remove the pieces of duck, drain, dredge with flour mixed with salt and pepper, and saute in hot fat until brown. Meanwhile add to the water in which they were parboiled the necks and giblets of the ducks, a minced shallot and a bunch of sweet herbs; then put in the browned pieces of duck, cover close and cook until tender, which will take nearly two hours. Take out the pieces of duck and place on the serving dish in the warming oven; strain the liquid in which they were cooked, return to the fire and thicken with brown flour; add one cup of cream, in which an egg has been beaten, stir until the egg is set, pour over the duck meat, and garnish with slices of lemon and bits of curled celery.

BLACK AND WHITE PUDDING.

Roll and sift pieces of stale bread to make two cups of fine crumbs; mix with these one-half a pound of beef suet, fine-chopped, one cup of dried curarnts, one cup of chopped nuts, walnuts of pecans, one teaspoonful, each, of powdered cloves and cinnamon, and one-half of one nutmeg, grated. Thin-sliced and chopped candied peel or candied fruits may be used to taste, and sweetening or molasses in the proportion to make the mixture the consistency of stiff dough—or about one cup—with one teaspoonful of baking soda, dissolved in a little water. Beat in the beaten yolks of two eggs, and fold in, the last thing, the stiff-beaten whites of the eggs. Steam in a well-greased mould from one to two hours. When cold, unmould, and pour over the pudding on the serving dish a thick blancmange of cornstarch, made by cooking six tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, blended with six tablespoonfuls of sugar, in one pint of milk, with careful stirring, until the mixture boils. Add any desired flavoring, and pour over the unmoulded pudding while the constarch is hot, piling it up with a spoon as it grows cold and tends to settle, until the black pudding is hidden by the white.

BAKED TONGUE.

Put a fresh tongue in a kettle, cover with boiling, salted water, and let cook slowly two hours. While hot remove tongue from water and take off skin. Slice a small onion and brown in one tablespoonful of butter; add three tablespoonfuls of butter and half a cup, each, of carrot and celery, cut in pieces; stir until well blended, then turn into a double roasting pan; upon these place the tongue, garnish with a sprig of parsley, and pour over all about five cups of water in which the tongue was cooked. Cover close and let it bake in a slow oven two hours.

If all veterans take adjusted service certificates, as probably 95 per cent of them will, the total cost by 1943 will be $5,273,345,563. Of this sum nearly two billions is for home service and the rest for overseas service. It will cost the government upwards of $45,000,000 a year to meet the cost of the certificates, and the final amount due in 1943 will be $4,290,280,031.

In addition, the cost of administration will be extremely high inasmuch as every first, second and third-class postoffice in the United States will be compelled to maintain an office to lend money on the certificates after three years.

Mrs. Nels P. Radick, farmer's wife from Fulda, Minnesota, told the members of the Senate Agricultural Committee today that the wives and children of farmers in her State are in a desperate condition on account of the terrible deflation in the price of farm products.

"This," she said, "has compelled a very large proportion of the farmers to give up hope of educating their children, and they have taken them out of the school and put them to work to earn something so they would not have to give up the farm. Younger children, both boys and girls have had to go to school only part time and do work beyond their years at home. One of our neighbors, with a wife and three little boys, are on an 80-acre farm, and though both man and wife have worked hard on the farm they could not get enough from their crops last year to pay their taxes. It cost us 75c to produce a bushel of oats, and oats are now bringing 39c a bushel. We have to pay 10 per cent for money at the banks, and have not come out even for the last two years. We lost $1,700 on two carloads of cattle in May, 1920, and many of our neighbor stockmen took similar losses.

J. B. Mills, marine engineer, 212 S. Lee St., says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills off and on many years for backache and other kidney trouble. I have always had fine results. A few of Doan's regulate my kidneys and strengthen my back if it feels at all weak and lame. I get Doan's at the Warfield Drug Store."

Mr. Mills gave the above endorsement on April 13, 1915 and on March 18, 1919, he added: "Doan's Kidney Pills are certainly fine. If my kidneys get out of order it only takes a few of Doan's to fix me up."

WOMAN COULD NOT WORK

Made Strong and Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

St. Paul, Minn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a tired, worn-out feeling and painful periods. I used to get up with a pain in my head and pains in my lowerparts and back. Often I was not able to do my work. I read in your little book about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I have taken it. I feel so well and strong and can do every bit of my work and not a pain in my back now. I recommend your medicine and you can use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. PHIL. MASER, 801 Winslow St., St. Paul, Minn.

Just another case where a woman found relief by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Many times these tired, worn-out feelings and pains about the body are from troubles only women have. The Vegetable Compound is especially adapted for just this condition. The good results are noted by the disagreeable symptoms passing away—one after another.

WITH THE WISHING FAIRY by CORINNE

COPYRIGHT 1921

Stella Tells Her Brownies About Electrical Eels.

"JUST imagine an Eel," Stella, the Wishing Fairy, was saying, "that seems charged with electricity—at least people say this of it. They call it an Electrical Eel, for they no more know what to call it or how to explain its strength than they can account for the electricity that descends from the sky. They know that it exists—this electric ourrent from beyond the clouds, and they also realize that they are unable to bind and hold it; that it is more powerful than they are with its ruthlessness and strength, but this is about as far as they have positively gotten. In the same way no one can explain the strange power of the Electrical Eel. It exists and—there you are!"

"What's an Eel?" asked a Brownie. "Tell us."

"An Eel," explained Stella, "is a creature of the water. It looks like a Snake, but it is no more a Snake than you are. It is shaped on the lines of a Snake and Humans consider it very good food. At least, I should think that those Humans enjoy eating it, who know that it tastes as deliciously as the most delicate Fish. It is a Fish."

Stella has a cousin whose name is Pearl and she is the mermaid Fairy at the End-of-the-Sea, just as Stella is the Wishing Fairy at the End-of-the-Earth, and Stella had heard from Pearl of the Electrical Eel.

It seems that once upon a time a plain, ordinary Eel that had no means of defending itself against its enemies went to Pearl with a wish for her to make come true. The wish was to be able to defend itself when in danger against larger fish, and she gave it this mysterious electricity that has puzzled every one ever since.

Instead of living in the sea the Electrical Eel's home is in fresh water. It lives in lakes and ponds, and when afraid it simply uses this curious power of turning its battery of electricity upon the creature that is attacking it. The result is that the enemy is routed by being completely stunned and sinks helplessly down in the deep water, while the Eel swims away in safety.

"Often in South American fresh waters," Stella continued, "where these fish are found, the natives ride headlong on horses into some lake to catch them. Terrible fights then take place, for the Eels defend themselves by turning on the full force of their body bound electricity and often horse after horse is stunned to such an extent that they all are unable to even stand, much less carry their riders. Lots of them are drowned. It's terribly exciting— this kind of fishing."

"I think it's perfectly awful!" gentle Kinkajou exclaimed in disgust. "As far as I am concerned I don't understand, and I don't think I ever could understand what sport Humans get from giving pain and fright and—death to other creatures less strong than they are. I think that hunting is a terrible pastime."

"Well," answered the Wishing Fairy, whose heart is as big as her magic is powerful, "I rather agree with you; yet such things unfortunately exist, and we have to look them in the face. After all, I was only telling you about an Eel that my cousin once helped."

"Can it stun and shock the fish whose bodies don't touch it?"

"Yes," answered Stella, "they are even able to numb fish that are some distance away from them."

Improved Order Red Men

Seminole Tribe No. 35, held a very interesting meeting on last Thursday evening. The chiefs degree was conferred on a class of warriors in a very able manner. A large delegation of visitors was present and enjoyed the ceremonies.

On Thursday, March 16, the tribe will confer the Adoption Degree on a class of palefaces and all Red Men in the city are invited to attend the council.

After the regular order of business on last Thursday evening the Knights of the Tin-Panities held their Spring Convocation and gave the mysteries of the loft to tramps. Following the degree a buffet supper was served and at a late hour all departed for their homes very much pleased with the evening entertainment.

Silver Moon Council

The committee on anniversary and the officers of Silver Moon Council have received many congratulations on the Anniversary and Banquet of the council on last Monday evening. The affair was a big sucess and the committee on arrangements deserve a lot of credit for the able manner in which it was arranged.

The council will hold its next meeting on Monday, March 13th, and the degree of the order will be conferred. All members and visitors invited to attend.

Knights of Columbus

A large number were present last Wednesday evening at the meeting of the Knights of Columbus, which meeting was held over from the previous regular meeting night. It so happened that George Washington's Birthday fell on the scheduled meeting night of the council, and it was thus impossible to hold meeting at the regularly appointed time. The interest of members in the council continues to be on the increase, if we are to judge by the interest that is shown at the meetings held from time to time. The Euchre Party held February 28th for the benefit of the Fourth Degree Assembly was largely attended.

The Knights of Columbus Memorial Communion Sunday occurred last Sunday, and the large number of members that approached Holy Communion was a source of edification to both the participants and the others who attended the same mass. The Annual Memorial Mass is an excellent idea, and well typified the strong Christian ideals that premeate the aims of an organization that has long ago proved itself a valiant defender of God and Country.

Brother Tom Murphy, Outside Guard of the Council, is still enjoying himself in the Emerald Isle, so reports have it. If any of the Alexandria members of the K. of C. ever go to Ireland they certainly must include in their itinerary the farm of Brother Tom.

Alexandria Council O. F. A.

Alexandria Council, No. 5, Order Fraternal Americans, held its semi-monthly meeting last evening which was largely attended. The interest in the Council is beoming more manifest at each meeting. The degrees of the order were conferred upon several candidates and applications were received and referred. The committee in charge of the drama "Among the Breakers" is to be put on at the Elks' auditorium on March 16th, made an encouraging report, and from present indications, a large audience will greet the producers of the play. The Citizens Band of Alexandria will be on hand to furnish the music for the occasion. The activities of the Council are becoming widespread, and the Council is looking forward with interest to the Annual meeting of its Grand Council which will be held in Norfolk in April, and a number of the members of the local council will attend.

Oriental Court No. 10

Oriental Court, No. 10, will hold its semi-monthly meeting on next Monday evening, at which time the Oriental Degree will be conferred and the mumbership is looking forward to the same with interest and a large attendance is expected.

Royal Arcanum

Alexandria Council, No. 627, Royal Aranum, at its meeting on last Tuesday evening received applications for membership and conferred the degrees upon one candidate. Much interest is being manifested in the council and it has taken on a new inspiration of activity.

Knights of Pythias

On Monday evening, March 6th, in Pythian Temple, 319 Cameron St., a Temple of the Pythian Sisters will be organized and it is requested that all ladies interested in such work will be present to assist. In the event that you should not be desirous of uniting with this organization, your presence is desired as we are sure this meeting will be interesting. Come, there will be no long tiresome addresses, but somthing to interest and entertain. All members of Oriental Lodge No. 6, K. of P., are invited to this meeting and it is the desire of the officers of Old Oriental Lodge that many of the members will take advantage of this opportunity to assist in the organization of the Pythian Sisters.

Thursday night, March 2, a good delegationof members from Oriental Lodge paid a visit to Herndon and conferred the three ranks of the order upon several candidates.

Tuesday evening, March 7th, will be the regular meeting night of Oriental Lodge and a good attendance is expected as much work is to be considered and several candidates will be present to receive the rank of Page.

A girl and a dog among men of all breeds out yonder in the hills of thrills

It was life in the raw out there—a life the girl, fresh from the city, could not understand. She shrank from the men who fought for her. She found ferocity and hate in men and beasts. She, too, found love. Ever guarding her the great wolf-dog—straining between the call of the pack and animal devotion for the girl. Sooner or later the blood-call would win—and then—

LORTON NEWS

The Young People's Club will meet on Friday evening at the home of Miss Dorothy Wiley.

A dance will be given at the Lyric Theater in Occoquan on Friday evening by the Lorton and Occoquan Dancing Club. There will also be a business meeting of the club on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. H. H. Green.

Mr. W. F. Fleming is visiting friends in Richmond, Va., for a few days.

Miss Mattie Goodwin was the guest of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Goodwin Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Davis, who have been ill at their home on Ox Road, are improving

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Green of Occoquan, Va., spent the week-end as the guests of Mrs. Green's parents at Falls Church, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Petitt visited Mrs. Petitt's mother in Anacostia, D. C., the latter part of last week.

Mrs. Isaiah Davis has returned home from a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. Burton Richards, in Alexandria, Va

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moyer have returned from a visit with relatives in Philadelphia, Pa.

Rev. Granger and Captain Myers of the "Volunteers of America," held services for the inmates of the District Reformatory Sunday morning. On their return to the city the steering gear of their car gave way, causing damage to the front axle and other parts. It was necessary to abandon the car and return to Washington by train. Fortunately no one was hurt.

The regular meeting of Crescent Lodge No. 33, I. O. O. F. was held in Occoquan, Tuesday evening. Installation of officers took place. Due to the inclement weather and bad roads on previous meeting nights, D. D. Crawford of R. E. Lee Lodge could not be present with his staff to conduct the installation. Therefore L. E. Foulks acted as district deputy and J. Sidney Wiley as grand marshall. The officers installed are as follows: F. H. Pegelow, noble grand; T. E. Murphy, vice grand; L. E. Foulks, secretary; J. Tanner, treasurer; G. T. Mayhugh, financial secretary, and L. M. Gaskins, warden. All brothers have been requested to be present at the next meeting as important business is to be brought before the lodge.

Guy Shepherd and Kenneth Dove attended Accotink Lodge, I. O. O. F. No. 75, Monday night, and witnessed the initiation of several candidates. Accotink Lodge also wishes all brothers to be present next Monday evening. A representative to the Grand Lodge, which meets May 8 and 9, is to be elected on Monday, March 6.

Lenten services were held at Pohick Church on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaiah Davis, Kyle Davis and a number of others attended the funeral services of Mrs. Rena Davis in Clarendon, Va., on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Dove and Mrs. Lewis Deavers were visitors in Accotink Sunday.

Mrs. Minnie Herndon, who recently underwent an operation on the throat, has recovered sufficiently to resume her duties at the D. C. Workhouse, where she is employed

Mrs. E. W. Mellichampe, who was operated upon Monday, a week ago, at the Alexandria Hospital, is making rapid recovery, for which her friends are glad to hear.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dove, accompanied by Mrs. James Baggett and Mrs. Lewis Deavers of Accotink, attended the community sing at Friends Meeting House, Woodlawn, Va., on Sunday afternoon. Mr. W. E. Dunn of Alexandria is leader of the services. He brought with him that afternoon the men of H. K. Field's Bible Class, who favored the people with several selections. The band from Camp Humphreys was also there and the music was very good. Several selections by those in the community and the singing of many good hymns by all made it a meeting worth while. Arrangements are under way for the construction of a large community building on the Friends' property, which will be helpful in many ways to the entire community.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over thirty years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

Never attempt to relieve your baby with a remedy that you would use for yourself.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Comfort—The Mother's Friend.

Hail Dog! This Pup Won The Derby!

New York-Chicago "Air Castle" Planned For 1924

Despite the fact scores of lives were lost in the destruction of the giant dirigibles ZR-2 and Roma, purchased respectively from England and Italy by the United States, plans are being evolved by the Connecticut Aircraft Company of New Haven for the establishment in 1924 of a commercial air line between New York and Chicago. "The Aurora," shown here, will be 250 feet long and capable of carrying 300 passengers and 20,000 pounds of baggage, declare officials of the company. Plans for its construction already have been made and if they materialize, say the backers, "flying passengers" soon will be able to eat breakfast in New York and fly to Chicago in time for dinner. Daily schedules for the "Aurora" will be arranged when the dirigible is completed, it is declared.

Possible Resignation of Lloyd George Temporarily Averted

The possible resignation of Premier Lloyd George, of Great Britain, has been temporarily averted by efforts of his colleagues to have political foes of the Prime Minister adopt a conciliatory attitude. The political crisis which caused Lloyd George theaten resignation in a letter to Austen Chamberlain has not completely passed, however. The Premier is fighting the hardest battle of his political career. His adherents claim he will win. It is predicted, however, that in the event he loses he might be succeeded by Arthur J. Balfour, former Premier, who headed the British delegation to the Washington Arms Conference, or Austen Chamberlain, leader in the House of Commons. Lord Birkenhead, who has enjoyed a meteoric rise in British politics, is also said to be a possibility for Premier. Sir George Younger, "Unionist boss" grouped around Lloyd George with the aforementioned notables, is openly hostile to the retention of the present Premier.

Boston Woman Will Wed for Fifth Time

The turbulent sea of matrimony holds no fear for Mrs. Florence E. Walker, of Boston, twice-widowed and twice-divorced, who soon will marry her fifth husband, Elwood B. Wagner, Mrs. Walker divorced former Congressman H. E. Still and Count Alfred Kursa, German spy, her first and fourth husbands, respectively. Her second and third husbands, Oscar M. Shea and Maurice E. Walker, died The beads worn by Mrs. Walker in this picture, a wedding present from Count Kursa's mother, formerly were worn by the ex-Kaiser's mother.

Here's Champion Horseshoe Pitcher of World

Lucky? Weel, he should be, for horseshoes mean a great deal to him in his life. From a field of twenty-two of America's best "barnyard golfers," C. C. Davis, shown in action here, emerged victorious and was crowned champion horseshoe pitcher of the world. The tournament was held at St. Petersburg, Fla. Davis defeated R. P. Spencer, of Picher, Okla., in the finals by a score of 50 to 29.

Beauty and Fashion in Switzerland

Electric Engineer Manufactures Lightning For Experiments

Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, chief consulting engineer of the General Electric Company, is here shown in his laboratory at Schenectady, N. Y., examining fragments of a tree-branch which had just been struck by lightning. The lightning, which damaged the branch, was manufactured by Dr. Steinmetz's lightning generator, an ingenious laboratory apparatus which stores up electric energy as thunder clouds do in the sky. When a certain over-charged point is reached—in this case 120,000 volts—the machine gives off a lightning flash which does on a small scale what natural lightning does on a

Ireland Now Has Own Postage Stamps

Folks in the "Land of the Shamrock" now are licking their country's own improvised postage stamps. With the inauguration of the Irish Free State, under terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty, the Government of Ireland has begun the issuance of Irish stamps, as shown in this picture.

The Irish showed what they thought of King George by simply stamping his visage, in Gaelic words, "Provisional Government of Ireland." It saved printing new stamps, which is to be done as soon as those with King George's printed-over photo run out.

Pershing's Nephew Is Now "Dry" Officer

James F. Pershing, Jr., nephew of General Pershing, has accepted appointment as assistant to Ralph A. Day, Prohibition Enforcement Director for the State of New York. Pershing served in the army during the World War. He is a Republican and has been in business with his brother as a stock and bond broker in New York City.

Wedding Gown of Princess Mary

This duplicate of the wedding gown worn by Princess Mary at her marriage in London Tuesday to Viscount Lascelles was designed by Reville, of London, dressmaker to Her Majesty the Queen. The gorgeous gown, worn here by Miss Marion Davies, famed film and stage star, was imported by Franklin Simon and Company, of New York.

The lavishness of the wedding gown and trousseau worn by Princess Mary was visually embellished by the gorgeous dress of ceremonial attendants, bridesmaids and ushers all being clad in the finest of raiment.

The wedding ceremony took place in historic Westminster Abbey amid all the pomp and glory of Old World royalty.

He's Under Two, But Oh My!

The young skating enthusiast pictured here is Don Herschel Cross, of St. Paul, Minn. Although he's a bouncing buster, he does none of his bouncing on the ice. He keeps his feet like a veteran and, while he cuts no fancy 8's, he cuts a dashing figure in his complete outfit of Knitted Outerwear comprising knitted mittens and cap. Don is only 1 year, 11 months old.

Blackmailers Attempt to Victimize Prominent Society Matrons

Blackmailers, in efforts to force sums of money ranging from $15,000 to $25,000 from five prominent Washington society matrons, have threatened death to their victims unless they "come through," police in the capital city have announced.

Threatening letters have been received, it was declared by Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh, widow of the copper king; Mrs. Henry White, wife of the former American Ambassador to France; Mrs. S. B. Elkins, Mrs. Scott Townsend, social leader, and Madame Christian Hauge, widow of a former Norwegian Ambassador to America. Photographs of the former three are shown here.
